

OVEREXERTION EXHAUSTS POPE

His Condition Is Not Serious, but Audiences Are Suspended.

Rome, March 8.—The Vatican announces that the indisposition from which Pope Pius is suffering and which became known to the public to-day is insignificant. The Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, publishes the following official announcement:

"The Holy Father being indisposed from a slight attack of gripe and catarrh, the usual audiences have been suspended."

The Pope has been somewhat depressed since the death of his sister about a month ago, and tried to distract his mind from his sorrow by extraordinary activity. A few days since he began to show the effects of over-exertion, but continued to give audiences. He even delivered a short address to a group of pilgrims yesterday, although suffering from hoarseness.

As this condition had become more pronounced to-day, Dr. Marchisani, the Pope's physician, ordered an immediate suspension of all audiences. The examining physician also detected symptoms of mild bronchitis, although there was no rise of temperature.

The Pope is not confined to bed, but Dr. Marchisani has advised complete rest and early retirement at night. Although it is expected that His Holiness will be able to resume audiences within a week, it is feared that his indisposition will interfere to some extent with the Easter celebration.

AT HIS DESK IN WHITE HOUSE

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson.

MEMBERS OF CABINET DEEPLY RELIGIOUS

Trend Is Toward Presbyterianism, but Many Creeds Are Represented.

BY P. H. MCGOWAN.

Washington, March 8.—The Wilson Cabinet is a deeply pious one taken as a whole, and it is very doubtful if in the history of the country there have been as many church-going members as will be found in this newly created official family. To-morrow Washington will get a line on the religious tendencies of the new members. President Wilson will attend the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church for his first Sunday service in Washington. This is the church where Lincoln worshipped, and is known as the "Church of the Presidents." There, many former occupants of the White House, have gone from time to time, and more than ordinary interest centers around the place where the Wilson family will go for divine service.

Of little less interest than the place where the President and his family will worship is the Washington church of Vice-President Marshall. For this reason it is safe to say that many eyes will watch the White House automobile to-morrow, and that of the Vice-President to see where the occupants attend service for the first time since taking up their official duties here. In the Cabinet it is probable that the religious tendencies are about equally distributed. The President himself being a deeply religious man, has selected his Cabinet not only with an eye to the ability which each member may possess or to his political acumen, but there are also other reasons which weighed in making the selection.

William J. Bryan, the "Premier of the Cabinet," occupying the highest position of any ranking member—

Secretary of State—is well-known the country over for his religious lectures. "The Prince of Peace" being one that always attracts a big crowd. There has never been a time when Bryan came to Washington when he failed to draw well when discussing religious matters. Churches and theatres have been taxed to their fullest capacity and the "standing room only" sign has been brought out on more than one occasion. It is quite probable that during the years that Mr. Bryan lives in the national capital, he will be called upon to make addresses upon religious subjects and to take part in many religious gatherings, and it is safe to say that, as on former occasions, standing room will be at a premium.

The keynote of the administration from a religious viewpoint will be found in the statement that its Presbyterian strain is most pronounced. Not only are the President and the Vice-President both elders, but Colonel Bryan also enjoys that distinction. Practically every religious creed is found in the new Cabinet. Secretary McAdoo is an Episcopalian, Secretary Taft a Methodist and Sunday school class leader in his home town, Raleigh; Secretary Burleson is just as devoted a Baptist, Joseph Patrick Tumulty, the President's right-hand man, is a Catholic, and has a high position in the Knights of Columbus and other Catholic orders.

David P. Houston, the man who came into the Cabinet unheralded, as President Wilson's Secretary of Agriculture, is of the Methodist faith. Years ago, when teaching in the little red school house at Spartanburg, S. C., just after graduating from the South Carolina College, he became a devoted member of the Methodist Church, and is an earnest worker in the cause. His influence will be felt in whatever Washington church he may affiliate with.

William Baughman Wilson, the man who was called from Congress to head the Department of Labor, belongs to the old Scottish-Presbyterian faith. Born at Blantyre, Scotland, he was the son of his father—the Presbyterianism of the hardy Scotch Secretary McAdoo got his early religious training from the village Sunday school near Marietta, Ga., the home of his early youth. The Methodist creed predominates in that section, and the lessons that the new secretary learned while going to the Sabbath school have made his religious tendencies lean that way.

Lindley M. Garrison is the son of an Episcopalian minister, and he doubtless will be found affiliating with St. John's Church of this city, an old and historic institution at the corner of Sixteenth and J Streets. It will thus be seen that while Presbyterianism strongly predominates in the Wilson Cabinet, many creeds are represented.

Watch and Chain Stolen.

Mrs. L. S. Eggleston, of North Eighteenth Street, last night reported to the police that while she was absent her home was entered through a kitchen window, and a gold watch and chain, valued at $75, stolen.

Woodshed Burn.

Fire last night shortly after 10 o'clock destroyed two woodsheds in the rear of 1430 and 1412 West Cary Street, entailing a loss of about $50. The blaze was put out without difficulty.

NEGROES STONE CAR

Disorderly Crowd Retailers by Throwing Missiles Through Windows. Car No. 23 of the Riverline bus was badly damaged last night about 11 o'clock by a crowd of disorderly negroes. When they were forced to leave the trolley, by the crew because of their behavior they picked up rocks and bricks and threw them right and left. Several crashed through windows and the car was otherwise damaged.

A hurry call was sent to the Second Police Station, and Patrolman Goode hurried to the scene. On his arrival he found negro rioters, both women, were in sight. They were arrested. They gave their names as Susie Hill and Genevieve Johnson. A warrant for a man, whose identity was learned, was sworn out. The car was twice stoned, once at Harrison and Dance Streets and again at Randolph and Ashland.

Motorman A. L. Garrett and Conductor J. P. Jordan were in charge of the car. They said they had trouble with the noisy negroes, and the attack was the result of their anger. No one was hurt in the melee which ensued.

EXPERT FORMULA

Eggleston Closes Catchy Paragraph for Farm Workers.

J. D. Eggleston, one of the ablest of the rural school work of the United States Bureau of Education, has originated a clever and catchy "formula" which he proposes to benefit of school superintendents in connection with the farm demonstration work. It reads:

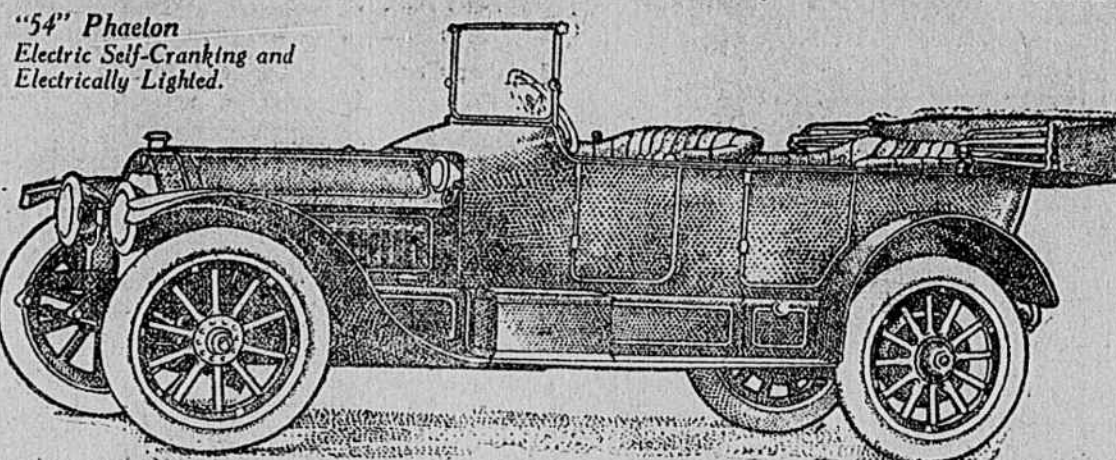

"From each parent willing to give his boy a chance, extract one acre of land. To that boy add one acre of land. They will supply expert knowledge and advice. Use each teacher as a citizen-maker to stir into the boy from time to time bulletins and circulars on corn-raising, and to get concrete lessons in language, spelling, arithmetic, writing and reading, based on the work of the boy on his acre of land. Mix the boy and the acre of land regularly. At the end of the year, state the result in terms of citizenship. For the girls, substitute one-tenth of an acre in the garden for five acres on the farm, and follow the same directions."

Know the Dealer

These are the things you should know before placing your order for any car. On them rests your motoring satisfaction. If you do not do business with the dealer who possesses these qualifications, then you are likely to be disappointed in the car.

Do not do business with an unscrupulous dealer nor one whose business suffers through lack of capital. You will find such a dealer, in a commercial sense, conducts his business from hand to mouth. He is usually the dealer who will sell a car at a discount and whatever profit he makes on the sale must go to the payment of his selling cost and overhead. He will have little or none to furnish you with service on the car.

You know the truth of this fact when you consider that it is the same in all lines of business.

Purchase your car of a prosperous automobile dealer, which insures that you get good service, and good service with a poor car is a better buy than poor service with the best automobile made.

Service a Most Important Item

If you would know the value of dealers' service in the operation of an automobile, you have but to consult men who have owned several different makes of cars and, if you will talk with any HUDSON owner, you will appreciate the value of the type of service we furnish to the owner of an automobile.

All business is done solely on confidence.

Confidence of one man in another. If you cannot have confidence in a dealer who sells the car you have selected, then yours is an unsafe purchase.

There is scarcely any limit to which we will not go to insure HUDSON owners the fullest satisfaction from their cars. We are more interested in you and your motoring interests after we have sold you the car than before you have bought. Yet, we realize that this is contrary to the attitude of the average automobile concern.

This service that we give you is but keeping faith with the Hudson Motor Car Company. There is a clause in our contract with the factory, which insures every purchaser of the highest standard of motor car service to be had, and this we cheerfully and rigidly adhere to in our deals with owners.

The Secret of Our Success

Any concern's success grows with the increasing popularity of the goods it sells. The new HUDSON "Six" rose to a higher point as a sales success than any 6-cylinder car has ever seen in the same length of time it has been on the market.

The "54" HUDSON's smooth, sweet running mechanism gives a sensation of flying that is lacking in the greatest of Four-cylinder cars. You can throttle it down to 3 miles an hour on high speed and pick up to 60 miles an hour with smoothness and ease that will be a revelation to you.

Avoid Disappointment in Getting Delivery

Ninety per cent of their dealers' orders are for spring delivery—hence, within a few days, it will be impossible to secure a delivery date for any one of these three cars. You know the names of these three cars if you are familiar with the automobile market and you know that one of them is the HUDSON.

Hence, we cannot impress too strongly upon prospective purchasers the necessity of securing a fixed delivery date for their cars.

The "54" HUDSON, fully equipped, with speedometer, clock, top, curtains, demountable rims and five-passenger Phaeton body, is $2450.

At $1875 you can obtain the HUDSON "37."

It, too, was designed by the same engineers that built the "54." Experts point to it as being the "Four-cylinder masterpiece."
